INFORMATION

23 July 1977

TO: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: RICK HUTCHESON Rick
SUBJECT: Memos Not Submitted

Jack Watson passed along letters from Mayor Beame, Coleman Young, and Gov. Hammond, to which he has already responded. They are summarized below:

Coleman Young: Thanks you for meeting with the "Moving Detroit Forward" delegation. "We were very much impressed by the depth of your understanding of our problems and by the intensity of your commitment to urban America... Allow me to congratulate you for the meticulous and unfailing manner in which you have met your commitments to addressing the problems of America's cities. Your leadership as President gives new hope and confidence to all Americans." ✓

Mayor Abe Beame: Expressing his concern over the statements by the State Department "which have been viewed by the Jewish community in New York as a departure from the strong and resolute commitment you had made last year to the assurance of Israel's survival and security." Beame says he supports your statement prohibiting further comment by Administration officials regarding the Mideast settlement, and hopes you will "take the appropriate opportunity to restate your convictions toward an equitable settlement of the Middle East problem and toward the State of Israel." (letter is dated July 5) ✓

Gov. Jay Hammond: Thanking you for your recent meeting with the Governors, and inviting you to tour the Alaskan coastal areas as well as the Gulf coast areas. "My concern is that even though 65% of the Nation's OCS lands are found off Alaska, judgments concerning their utilization may be unduly influenced by circumstances and conditions that are applicable only to the Atlantic and/or Gulf coast areas." ✓

LETTER FROM BILL MILLER RE HIRE

Attached for your information is a letter regarding the first month's activity of the HIRE program from Bill Miller, Chairman of Textron who is, as you know, serving also as Chairman of the President's Committee on HIRE. Unless you want to write Mr. Miller a hand-written note of commendation and thanks, no reply is necessary because I have already acknowledged his letter and report with your thanks.

HIRE: Jobs for Veterans

Dear President Carter:

When you launched the HIRE Program at the White House on June 14, you called on American business to mobilize to provide 100,000 jobs for veterans by September 30, 1978. You also asked me, as your Chairman for HIRE, to seek early job pledges from leading companies with a target of at least 5,000 by the end of the first month.

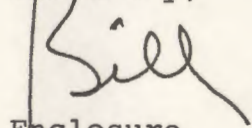

It is now my pleasure to report to you the following progress during the first 30 days of HIRE:

1. Thirteen companies have already submitted pledges to provide 7,800 jobs, representing over 150% of the first month's goal. Additional pledges are being received every day. The list of companies who have pledged thus far is enclosed.
2. Participating companies have loaned 50 senior sales executives to HIRE for four months, assuring experienced manpower for an effective campaign. This is in addition to the 200 loaned executives who are available to HIRE through the National Alliance of Businessmen.
3. A training program is being held for loaned sales executives and NAB personnel in Washington on July 18 and 19. An extensive campaign is being prepared to enlist broad support for the HIRE Program.

It is a privilege for me to serve as Chairman of HIRE. With the tremendous response being received from American private enterprise, I feel confident that your goal will be achieved.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR DR. ZBIGNIEW BRZEZINSKI
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Call on the President by Delegation of the Pernambuco Partners

The Pernambuco Partners from the State of Pernambuco in Brazil, Georgia's partner in the Partners of the Americas program, have asked for a twelve person delegation to make a courtesy call on the President on about October 17, 1977. The Brazilians will be making their annual visit to the United States, arriving in Atlanta October 10.

The success of the Partners of the Americas programs in encouraging cooperation between individuals in an American state and those in a Latin American state or country has varied, depending on the states involved. The Georgia-Pernambuco program has been one of the best. The President has supported it for years; he visited Pernambuco in 1972. Mrs. Carter recently visited there during her trip to South America and was warmly received.

In view of the above, the Department recommends that the President receive the Pernambuco delegation if his schedule permits.

SUBJECT: Proposed Fiscal Year 1977 and 1978 Appropriations for the Legislative Branch, the Department of Agriculture and the National Science Foundation

Attached for your approval are the following:

- Requests from the legislative branch totalling $11.1 million in fiscal year 1977 and $75.9 million in fiscal year 1978. The 1978 requests include $55 million for the extension of the West Front of the Capitol. These proposals will increase budget outlays by $10.7 million in fiscal year 1977 and $22.4 million in fiscal year 1978. Legislative branch requests are, by law, transmitted without change.
- Requests for fiscal year 1977 and 1978 supplemental appropriations for the Department of Agriculture to cover the costs of the February 1977 Federal executive pay raise which cannot be absorbed by the Department's Office of the Secretary. A high percentage of the Office's staff consists of executives eligible for this pay raise and available funds are not sufficient to meet these costs. These proposals will increase budget outlays by $86 thousand in fiscal year 1977 and $145 thousand in fiscal year 1978.
- A request for a limitation increase for the National Science Foundation to allow the extra fiscal year 1977 costs of the February 1977 executive pay raise to be paid from available funds. This proposal will not increase budget outlays.

Recommendation

That you sign the letters transmitting these proposals to the Congress.

Q

United States Senate
Office of the Majority Leader
Washington, D.C. 20510

July 22, 1977

The President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

✓ I urge withdrawal of the notice of the proposed sale of seven E-3 aircraft (Airborne Warning and Control System--AWACS) and related equipment to Iran. As you know, this notification was submitted to the Congress on July 7, pursuant to the Arms Control Export Act. Under such notification, Congress has 30 calendar days during which the sale may be prohibited by means of a concurrent resolution.

✓ I point out the particular circumstances which make it difficult for Congress to act within the statutory 30-day period. The Senate did not return from its non-legislative work period until July 11, and a resolution of disapproval was introduced on July 15. The Senate has been faced with a very demanding legislative schedule for the past two weeks and has only two weeks remaining prior to the statutory August recess. Hearings on the proposed sale have been held this week in both Houses, with further hearings scheduled next week.

✓ In view of the limited time remaining, and the schedule facing the Senate, it will be impossible for the Senate to give the proposal the careful and serious consideration it deserves. ~~Next week~~ the Senate is likely to consume a large amount of time in considering the legislation providing for public financing of Congressional elections.

I know you are aware that there is considerable controversy within Congress over the proposed AWACS sale and it would be likely to provoke extensive debate within the Senate. I want to convey to you my own serious reservations about the sale. I am particularly concerned about the security risks involved, and I know this concern is felt by many of my colleagues in the Senate and by the Director of Central Intelligence. I believe we would be taking an unnecessary risk of compromising the highly sophisticated technology which is critical to our own national defense.

During The next two

One factor that especially troubles me is that if the Soviet Union gained access to the AWACS and its technology (by accident, defection, diversion of technical manuals, or through intelligence activities) it could accelerate Soviet development of defenses against low-flying aircraft and missiles. This could cut years off the time the Soviets would need to develop a defense against the cruise missile. In view of your recent action discontinuing production of the B-1 and moving ahead with the cruise missile--an action I strongly support--this takes on added importance.

In the past five years we have sold more than $11 billion worth of arms to Iran, making that country by far the biggest recipient of U.S. arms. Iran already possesses large quantities of some of our most sophisticated military equipment.

I am also concerned that the sale would be contrary to our interest in a stable military balance and in limiting arms proliferation in the area. Although I understand that the AWACS is technically a support system, it would create a new and significantly increased combat capability for advanced weapons systems, such as the F-14, which the Iranian Air Force has. The AWACS capability to greatly multiply the offensive power of these aircraft is likely to cause neighboring nations to seek new weapons in response.

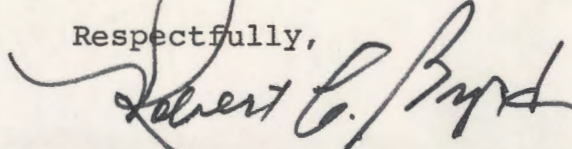

Another factor which concerns me is that this proposal may undercut the credibility of your announced policy on arms sales, which included the pledge that we would not introduce into a region "newly developed, advanced weapons systems which would create a new or significantly higher combat capability."

There are other problems which I find troubling, including the fact that NATO does not yet possess the AWACS. Further, the sale to Iran would require substantial American technical support in Iran, where we already have a large number of American citizens, many of whom are involved in military programs.

The President
July 22, 1977

✓ All of these problems, coupled with the legislative schedule facing the Senate, point to the need to delay action on this matter. I hope, therefore, that you will request the Secretary of Defense to withdraw the notice of the proposed sale.

Respectfully,

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

Bert Lance, Director

BLC-

SUBJECT:

District of Columbia Supplemental for Fiscal Year 1977 and Budget
Amendment for Fiscal Year 1978

Attached for your transmittal to the Congress are a fiscal year 1977 second supplemental request and a fiscal year 1978 budget amendment proposal from the District of Columbia government. Under the District of Columbia Self-Government and Governmental Reorganization Act (Public Law 93-198), you are required to approve and transmit local government proposals to the Congress on behalf of the city, as well as recommendations for Federal funds.

The fiscal year 1977 supplemental is the second supplemental proposal from the District, and it asks again for the balance of the authorized but unappropriated Federal payment. This is $4 million out of a total authorized Federal payment of $280 million. We had supported the full amount in both the original and first supplemental requests. The District maintains that the remaining $4 million would be used to finance about one-third of the proposed increases to the city's operating budget, which total $11.2 million, with local revenues financing the rest. The current enacted budget is $1.123 billion. About one-half of these proposals result from poor earlier estimates of anticipated needs. The remainder represents decisions made by the locally elected government within its Mayor-Council political process. You should be aware, however, that the District is almost certain to approve tax cuts for District property owners of up to $7 million in 1977. These proposals will increase Federal budget outlays by $4 million in fiscal year 1977.

The fiscal year 1978 amendment includes proposals to alter the fiscal year 1978 District budget now pending enactment in the Congress. The proposals would increase the operating budget by $7.5 million, to a total of $1.237 billion. They would increase the city's capital budget by $27.1 million, to a total of $177.5 million. The amendment would have no effect on the Federal budget outlays in fiscal year 1978, but will increase outlays in fiscal years 1979-81. These outlays would result from Treasury loans to the District to construct a proposed $110 million civic center, included in the amendment. (Congress still prohibits the District from borrowing in the private market for capital projects.)

Approval of the civic center project has gone through the required city budget and hearings processes and is expected to be approved by the Congress, although perhaps at a reduced size. We have traditionally not taken a position on local capital improvements, and I suggest we not do so on the civic center. However, we have taken two steps to reduce our exposure on this project. First, we will make only short-term loans for the four-year period of construction; the city will issue bonds to refinance the full amount after that. Second, the city has agreed to absorb as much of the increased outlays as possible within existing long-range loan estimates, which will average $136 million per year for the next four years without the civic center.

RECOMMENDATION

That you sign the attached letter transmitting these proposals to the Congress.

MEMORANDUM TO:

THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

STU EIZENSTAT
FRANK RAINES

Stu

SUBJECT:

Senator Moynihan's Welfare Fiscal Relief Bill (S. 1782)

You asked that we provide you with some background information on Senator Moynihan's fiscal relief bill.

The Senator proposes to increase the federal share of AFDC costs for one year in order to provide $1 billion of fiscal relief to the states. Each state would receive the same percentage of the $1 billion as its share of the total AFDC expenditures in the country. For example, New York has 17.06% of AFDC expenditures and would, therefore, receive $170.6 million. Georgia would receive $10.7 million. A state might receive less than its maximum allotment because S. 1782 provides that the total federal share, including the fiscal relief allotment, cannot exceed 90% of AFDC expenditures in the state. The bill would also require that states share the fiscal relief with local governments where those governments contribute to the costs of AFDC.

Moynihan's bill, as written, would only affect federal costs in FY 1978. He would undoubtedly attempt to renew the legislation in future years. The bill directs most of its relief to those states who have higher AFDC costs due to larger numbers of recipients and/or higher benefit levels. Although there is some equity in this distribution of relief, it may not be able to command majority support in Congress.

The bill would not directly affect the welfare reform plan currently being evolved, although, it could have a very significant indirect effect. The states are one of the few groups prepared to support welfare reform, because they see it as a means to obtain fiscal relief. If they see a way to obtain relief, without having to engage in a fight over reform, they may refuse to work for the Administration's proposal and devote their time to increasing the federal share under AFDC and Medicaid. Moynihan is intellectually favorable to reform, but his most urgent political need is fiscal relief for New York.

Senator Moynihan was quite upset that Secretary Califano strongly opposed his bill. Nevertheless, we should be cautious in dealing with the idea because it could seriously undermine support for your welfare reform plan. You might want to tell the Senator that we will be happy to work with him on his bill in the context of the consideration of the Administration's proposals. He should know that our support for fiscal relief is tied to accomplishing reform at the same time.

Secretary Califano met today with labor leaders and financial people from New York City. They indicated that their major concern was not immediate relief but some sense of what the future was going to look like. The welfare reform proposal Secretary Califano will send over later this week will have in excess of $2 billion in fiscal relief for the states.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

STU EIZENSTAT
BILL JOHNSTON

Stu

SUBJECT:

Bilateral Air Agreement

Press reports indicate considerable Congressional concern over the new air agreement with the UK, which is to be signed tomorrow. Senators Cranston, Cannon and Kennedy and Representatives Anderson and Johnson have written you complaining about the agreement.

Senator Kennedy said "the agreement may have a profoundly negative impact on competition" and is "substantially more anticompetitive than the original Bermuda agreement." Some of their letters urge that we postpone signing the agreement, pending Congressional and public review. Mike Egan, Associate Attorney General, has written a letter recommending that you consider rejecting the agreement.

The criticisms of the agreement are: 1) that it limits competition by restricting the number of air carriers that can serve each US-UK city pair (the new agreement authorizes more than one U.S. carrier per route on two routes only, whereas there are currently eight such routes certificated in two U.S. carriers); 2) that it limits the number of U.S. cities that can be served; 3) that it limits the total number of flights that can be added by an air carrier to any route during one season; and 4) that it does not contain a firm commitment from the British to sign a liberal charter agreement. These criticisms come from those who are genuinely concerned about the US competitive posture, and also from cities and airlines who feel that their interests were slighted in the negotiations.

Our negotiators in Bermuda are working to strengthen the charter commitment in the agreement, but the final language still may not satisfy those who believe in the importance of charters in generating real competition in international aviation. One problem is that the British have commitments to common market partners on the charter question, and are very reluctant to agree to a liberal charter commitment without multilateral agreement.

As for the basic competitive principles of the agreement, the U.S. agreed to a process whereby air carriers are allowed to add as many as 20 new flights per summer season per year in each market (and 12 per winter season) without challenge. Additions of flights above this free zone must be justified by forecasts of demand, if they are challenged by the British. I do not believe that this system will have a significant restrictive impact on capacity additions.

As for the limitations on cities and carriers serving them, the British were simply unwilling to allow many U.S. carriers to operate from more U.S. cities to compete with their government airline. We might have been able to push them into granting landing rights into an additional U.S. city, or to an additional U.S. carrier in one or two cities. But in the British view, its economic interest lay in restricting numbers of cities and U.S. carriers.

Ambassador Boyd believes that he protected the rights of American carriers to compete in all major markets with relative flexibility of operation. He added a few new cities to the list of U.S. gateways. In a world in which there may be too many nations seeking to build up their national airlines by obtaining for them a share of the limited world market for air transportation, it may be unrealistic to think that we will be able to force other nations to accept service by as many U.S. carriers operating from many new cities.

In light of these realities, it might be a mistake to postpone signing to give Congress and other critics of the agreement time to generate opposition. Prolonged negotiations and cessation of service to Britain might be able to produce an agreement that is marginally better than this one. But there will be criticism of any agreement that does not grant unlimited service to all cities by all carriers at unrestricted prices.

On February 25 you signed Executive Order 11974 relating to the Generalized System of Preferences. The proposed order corrects a technical inaccuracy in Executive Order 11974 which denies duty-free status to certain types of leather goods from certain underdeveloped countries, even though it had been intended that duty-free status be granted for the articles in question.

The order has been approved by Justice and OMB. We recommend approval.

SUBJECT:

Letter to Congressmen
Findley and Mathis

These two Congressmen have organized 32 of their colleagues and sent you a letter on the food stamp program. They seek your support of what they call "food for work." Their idea is to permit any local government to require food stamp recipients to work off the value of their benefits on public service jobs. The Agriculture Committee bill provides for a pilot project of the concept in each state. These Congressmen seek to expand that authorization to permit any locality to participate.

The Agriculture Department has agreed to the pilot project but strongly opposes the attempt to expand the concept to every local government. They believe, and we concur, that such a program would be subject to abuse, would not create real jobs, and might very well interfere with plans for welfare reform. The Department would very much like you to personally answer the letter. Frank Moore concurs.

We recommend that you sign the attached letters and that the Agriculture Department receive copies to distribute to the other signers and other interested members. This issue will be voted on in the House on Monday.

To Congressman Paul Findley

Thank you for sharing your thoughts, and those of your colleagues, on the food stamp provisions in the Farm Bill. I share your concern about the role of employment programs in relation to benefit programs such as food stamps.

I will send a message to Congress presenting my proposals for welfare reform. A significant part of that plan will be a jobs program for persons who are currently eligible to receive public assistance and food stamps.

Our planning for welfare reform, including the future of the food stamp program, has been comprehensive. One lesson we have learned is that the maze of current programs is so complex that one must move with care in attempting to produce meaningful reform.

As I understand it, the House Agriculture Committee Farm Bill contains provisions for pilot projects in which certain food stamp recipients would be required to earn their benefits through the performance of public service work. The bill also contains a strong work requirement. The Agriculture Department has informed me that it accepts these provisions.

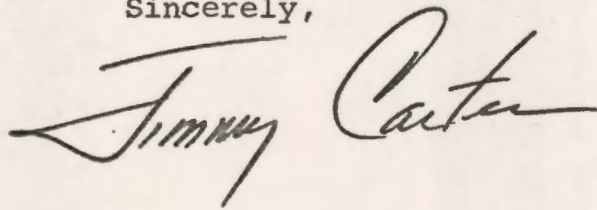

Your letter suggests that an effort will be made on the House floor to expand the number of pilot projects, permitting virtually any local government to participate. It is my view that such an expansion would be unwise.

I believe that any work program for low-income people should be organized to pay the participants a wage just as every other worker is paid. That is what the jobs program in my welfare reform plan will do. Requiring food stamp recipients to work-off their benefits does not meet this objective.

Any expansion of the number of pilot projects beyond those in the Committee bill should await the results of the tests the Agriculture Department has already agreed to conduct.

I am pleased that the Committee bill incorporates the major reforms in the food stamp program we have proposed. With these improvements, the program will be able to serve more of those most in need and do so in a more efficient and effective way.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

When the omnibus farm bill (H.R. 7171) reaches the House Floor next month, it will contain a "food for work" provision to test the workfare concept in the nation's Food Stamp program. This provision was adopted by the House Agriculture Committee on a vote of 43 to 2.

The provision would establish one pilot project in each State, under which certain recipients would be required to perform public service work in exchange for food stamps. Of course, many recipients would be exempt, such as those who have a job which pays more than the value of the food stamp allotment and those who are exempt from the requirement to seek work now in the food stamp law. However, other able-bodied recipients for the first time would be required to earn their food stamps through community service. Each hour of public service would be equivalent in value to the Federal minimum wage.

We will attempt to improve the proposal on the House Floor through an amendment to increase State and local option in serving as pilot project areas.

We are convinced that "food for work" is an idea whose time has come. The program offers a new resource to State and local governments, at no additional cost, to assist them in improving their level of service to the Community. It also expressly protects regular public sector jobs and job opportunities.

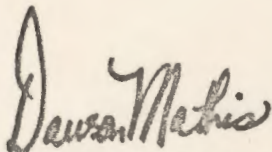

The biggest benefit to the Food Stamp program in our view is that "food for work" will stimulate work incentives and increase the career potential of able-bodied recipients who have been unable to find adequate employment on their own. In the process, it will go a long way in restoring public confidence in the Food Stamp program and bring self-esteem to recipients.

The Honorable Jimmy Carter.
July 6, 1977

We are also confident that "food for work" can serve as an important element of the overall welfare reform effort. There is no question that private sector employment is preferable to public sector work. But the simple fact of the matter is that there are more job seekers than jobs. "Food for work," and later workfare, can help deliver useful jobs, while a long-term solution to the unemployment problem is being developed.

For these reasons, we respectfully urge you to support the "food for work" provision contained in the House farm bill, and we hope that workfare will be included as an important feature of the comprehensive welfare reform your Administration is now formulating.

Sincerely

Dawson Mathis

Transmittal to the Senate of the

Other than Oil

At Tab A is the transmittal to the Senate on the Protocol on Marine Pollution Other than Oil. The Protocol was adopted at London on November 2, 1973 by the International Conference on Marine Pollution, sponsored by the Inter-Governmental Maritime Consultative Organization (IMCO).

At Tab B is the State Department report.

Jim Fallows concurs in the text of the transmittal.

RECOMMENDATION:

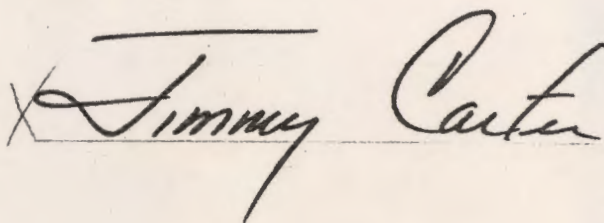

That you sign the transmittal to the Senate at Tab A.

TO THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES:

I herewith transmit for your consideration the Protocol Relating to Intervention on the High Seas in Cases of Marine Pollution by Substances Other than Oil, 1973. I am also transmitting a report on this Protocol from the Department of State.

The Protocol complements the 1969 International Convention Relating to Intervention on the High Seas in Cases of Oil Pollution Casualties by providing that, under certain circumstances, governments may take action on the high seas to protect the interests of their coastal areas from marine pollution caused by substances other than oil. A list of such substances, compiled by the Inter-Governmental Maritime Consultative Organization, accompanies the Protocol. Under the terms of the Protocol, the list can be amended to reflect future technological developments.

The Protocol is evidence of awareness by the international community that oil is not the only potential source of marine pollution, and that steps must be taken to prevent or reduce damage from other substances as well. I recommend that the Senate advise and consent to its ratification.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: STU GREENSTAT

SUBJECT: GRANTS AND LOANS FOR NEW YORK CITY

AS A RESULT OF THE POWER FAILURE AND SUBSEQUENT RIOTING IN NEW YORK CITY, A PACKAGE HAS BEEN PUT TOGETHER UNDER EXISTING AUTHORITY AND USING EXISTING FUNDS TO PROVIDE ASSISTANCE AND TO SHOW THE CONCERN OF THE ADMINISTRATION. THIS PROGRAM CONSISTS OF 38 MILLION IN GRANTS AND 46 MILLION IN LOANS. MOST OF THE MONEY WILL GO TO STORE OWNERS AND OTHERS WHOSE PROPERTY WAS RAVAGED. THIS WILL NOT REQUIRE A DISASTER DECLARATION OR EMERGENCY DECLARATION BY YOU.

SECRETARY MARSHALL IS WILLING TO GO TO NEW YORK TOMORROW TO ANNOUNCE THE PROGRAM. HE IS A LOGICAL PERSON TO DO SO SINCE 38 MILLION OF THE 46 MILLION GRANT PORTION OF THE PROGRAM IS IN CITA FUNDS ADMINISTERED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

IN LIGHT OF THE FACT THAT WE WILL ALMOST CERTAINLY HAVE TO TURN DOWN THE FORMAL EMERGENCY DECLARATION REQUEST FROM GOVERNOR CAREY AND TO SHOW THE SENSITIVITY OF THE ADMINISTRATION TO THE PLIGHT OF THOSE WHOSE PROPERTY WAS DAMAGED OR DESTROYED, I FEEL THAT SUCH AN ANNOUNCEMENT BY SECRETARY MARSHALL IS IN ORDER. WE WILL PROCEED UNLESS YOU INSTRUCT OTHERWISE.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: STU EIZENSTAT Stu
SUBJECT: Grants and Loans for New York City

As a result of the power failure and subsequent rioting in New York City, a package has been put together under existing authority and using existing funds to provide assistance and to show the concern of the Administration. This program consists of $6 million in grants and $3 million in loans. Most of the money will go to store owners and others whose property was ravaged. This will not require a disaster declaration or emergency declaration by you.

Secretary Marshall is willing to go to New York tomorrow to announce the program. He is a logical person to do so since $2 million of the $6 million grant portion of the program is in CETA funds administered by the Department of Labor.

In light of the fact that we will almost certainly have to turn down the formal emergency declaration request from Governor Carey and to show the sensitivity of the Administration to the plight of those whose property was damaged or destroyed, I feel that such an announcement by Secretary Marshall is in order. We will proceed unless you instruct otherwise.

Jack Watson's office concurs.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

STU EIZENSTAT

Stu

SUBJECT:

Proposed Memorandum on Agency Policy-
Level Representation at Water Policy
Hearings

I recommend that you sign the proposed memorandum asking agencies to provide policy-level representatives at the upcoming hearings on water policy reform. Because of the tight time schedule of the reform effort, the hearings were necessarily scheduled on relatively short notice. Lack of high-level representation at the hearings might indicate a down-grading of our public participation commitment.

Interior, OMB and CEQ have already scheduled attendance by high-level people. But Agriculture, EPA, Transportation and other agencies have not.

As indicated in the attached memo, there is no suggestion that all agencies have a representative at eight hearings, but that Interior coordinate having a high-level person from at least one of the agencies at each hearing.
